FIRM
OVERVIEW

Over the years, CRM has earned a reputation for thoughtful, collaborative, and prudent investment management across multiple strategies. Our investment philosophy is characterized by three attributes: change, neglect, and valuation. Our process is based on fundamental, bottom-up research, and thorough due diligence. The firm has superior access to company management which allows for active engagement and longer term value creation. Our process leads to unique, relatively concentrated, and differentiated portfolios with high active share¹. Best-in-class infrastructure supports all trading, operations, IT, and legal activities.

Chris Barnett and Brian Harvey are Co-CEO's and have been with the firm for an average of 23 years. The research team consists of 9 seasoned professionals with an average of 21 years experience and 11 years tenure at the firm. The entire team works collaboratively across all strategies. On September 30, 2019, CRM once again became 100% employee owned.

Investment Research

All CRM investment research team members' primary responsibility is as an analyst. The team is aligned by industry sectors. All members contribute to each CRM strategy and are not restricted by market cap.

*Financial experience may include experience in the financial services or consulting sector, including, among other areas, tax consulting, investment banking, research analysis.

OPPORTUNISTIC VALUE
INVESTORS

CRM's focus lies left of 'core' and right of 'deep value'. A fair label would be relative value, which allows for thoughtful, opportunistic investing within the framework of our valuation discipline.

Equity Style
Spectrum

CRM has been investing in relative value for over 50 years. Our relative value style allows us to find attractive ideas throughout the market cycle.

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

3 Attributes

Every company CRM invests in is characterized by three attributes: change, neglect, and valuation. We invest at the intersection of change and neglect.

*Free cash flow: Represents the cash a company generates after accounting for cash outflows to support operations and maintain its capital assets.

GAAP: Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

CATALYST FOR CHANGE

EVALUATING NEGLECT

Sell-side analyst coverage
Institutional ownership
Anchoring and recency bias
Confirmation of differentiated viewpoint

APPRAISING VALUATION

Identify companies trading at a discount to their history and peers
Focus on free cash flow (GAAP can be misleading)*
Emphasis on underearning vs potential opportunity

THE IDENTIFIABLE & REPEATABLE PROCESS

Multi-layer risk management (stock, portfolio, firm)

CRM'S APPROACH TO RESPONSIBLE INVESTING & ESG INTEGRATION

TIMELINE AND HISTORY OF CRM'S ENGAGEMENT & ESG INVESTING

- Engagement is part of our DNA: Given spending time with management is an important component of our diligence process, we have been engaging with our management teams since 1973.
- Depth of experience of CRM Investment Team: Our investment analysts have an average of 21 years industry experience, lending to more substantive ESG discussions.
- Rise of activism/constructivism in the last five years has conditioned management teams to be more receptive to investor suggestions.
- In 2023, we engaged with roughly 65% of our portfolio companies on ESG issues.

CRM'S APPROACH TO RESPONSIBLE
ESG
INTEGRATION

ESG OPPORTUNITIES IN SMALL/MID CAP VALUE SPACE

- Unique access to management facilitates engagement: Typically, as a top shareholder, we have unique access to management teams for interaction. Given our investment team's depth of experience, our portfolio companies often seek out our feedback first.
- Deterioration of sell side research adds to neglect in the U.S. small/mid cap space.
- Early days for ESG in U.S. small cap: Many companies we own and evaluate lack ESG data and ratings. Where there is data/awareness, there is usually room for improvement.
- ESG neglect down cap: We have found that other small cap value investors are often not gaining traction or having meaningful dialogues with management teams.

ESG RATINGS DISTRIBUTION

Source: MSCI

As of September 2024

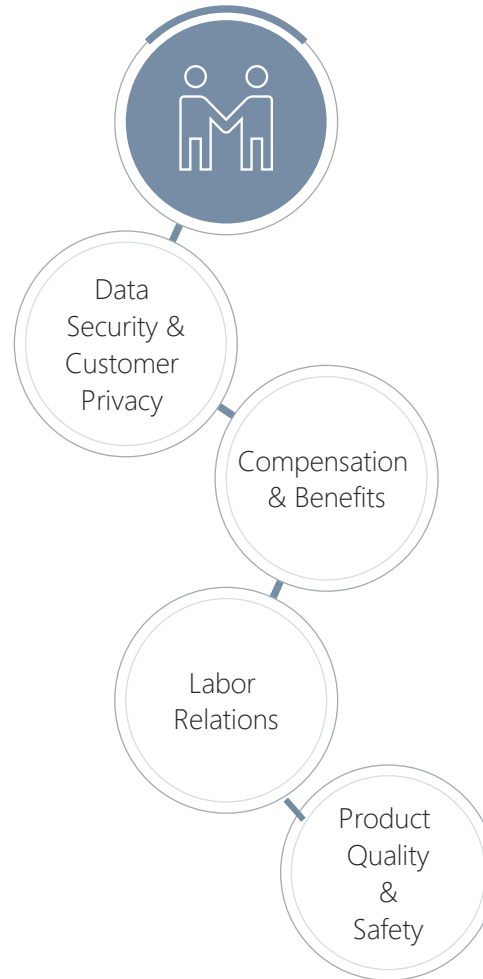

Investing in securities that meet ESG criteria may result in forgoing otherwise attractive opportunities, which may result in underperformance when compared to portfolios that do not consider ESG factors.

GOVERNANCE

ESG Factors

In summary, we believe integrating ESG factors into a company's operations and investment procedures can have a material impact on a company's valuation, financial performance, and related risk/return.

Cramer Rosenthal McGlynn, LLC licenses and applies the SASB Materiality Map® General Issue Categories in our work. SASB's Materiality Map® identifies sustainability issues that are likely to affect the financial condition or operating performance of companies within an industry. Cramer Rosenthal McGlynn, LLC is a signatory of the PRI (Principles for Responsible Investment). The PRI, a UN-supported network of investors, works to promote sustainable investment through the incorporation of environmental, social and governance issues into investment analysis and decision-making processes. Sustainable and Impact Investing and/or Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) managers may take into consideration factors beyond traditional financial information to select securities, which could result in relative investment performance deviating from other strategies or broad market benchmarks, depending on whether such sectors or investments are in or out of favor in the market. Further, ESG strategies may rely on certain values-based criteria to eliminate exposures found in similar strategies or broad market benchmarks, which could also result in relative investment performance deviating.

DUE DILIGENCE

Our Due Diligence is processed collaboratively across sector teams

Emphasize bottom-up, fundamental analysis

Create a proprietary financial model and assess the valuation

Sensitivity to core assumptions

Conduct management level interviews and company visits

Review relevant environmental, social, and governance considerations

Gather third party verification (contact customers, suppliers, background checks, and competitors)

Establish the investment case and price target

Our Process

We emphasize bottom-up, fundamental analysis and active engagement with management teams, with a focus on longer term value creation.

An Investment Case is established for all CRM holdings, which clearly identifies the expected change, neglect, valuation, and risk, including relevant environmental, social, and governance considerations.

Company Description

The company designs, develops, markets and distributes thermal imaging systems, visible-light imaging systems, locator systems, measurement and diagnostic systems and advanced threat-detection systems. Founded in 1978, the company offers the broadest range of infrared (also known as thermal) imaging solutions in the world with products that range from a consumer-use thermal camera smartphone accessory to highly advanced aircraft-mounted imaging systems for military and search and rescue applications.

Surveillance: provides imaging and recognition solutions to a variety of military, law enforcement, public safety and other government customers around the world for the protection of borders, troops and public welfare. This segment also includes hand-held and weapon-mounted thermal imaging systems for use by consumers.

Instruments: provides devices that image, measure and assess thermal energy, gases and other environmental elements for industrial, commercial and scientific applications. End markets include electrical & mechanical tools, manufacturing plant facility maintenance, petrochemical, utilities, HVAC/R, firefighting, and safety & health.

BUY/SELL DISCIPLINE

Buy Discipline

Focus on bottom-up, fundamental company research, identifying investments with a high probability of achieving change catalysts

Understand the investment's risks and rewards subject to strategy's risk controls and existing holdings

Portfolio Holdings: Relatively concentrated portfolios with an initial investment horizon of approximately two years

Conviction Weighting: Typically 1-6% position size

Sell Discipline

Dependence on the original Investment Case

A stock will be sold when one or more of the following occurs:

- Price approaches or attains established price target, implying the stock has reached CRM's fair valuation

- Fundamentals of the Investment Case deteriorate

- Investment is replaced by a higher conviction stock with a greater risk/reward profile

Final
Investment
Decision

Each final investment decision is made by the Portfolio Managers with input from relevant Analysts.

RISK MANAGEMENT

Regular research meetings focus on all levels of risk control

- Analyst/sector teams - investment case focus

- Portfolio managers - strategy & client focus

- CIO/risk management review - overall portfolio/firm exposure focus

Identification of neglect and low expectations can provide downside protection

Monitor established investment case

All strategy holdings evaluated for macro and factor risk.

We are benchmark aware, not benchmark driven. There will be instances where we will be materially over or underweight in a sector vs. our benchmark. We generally implement a 25% limit on an industry level.

Strict adherence to sell discipline and review of established price targets and relative performance screens

How we evaluate strategy risk

Our portfolio managers evaluate strategy risk by identifying a range of factors, beyond economic and industry sectors, that may impact the companies we own.

Russell 2500 Value Index and the Russell 2500 Index. The Russell 2500 Value Index is an unmanaged index that measures the performance of those companies in the Russell 2500 Index with lower price-to-book ratios and lower forecasted growth values. The Russell 2500 Index is an unmanaged index that measures the performance of the 2,500 smallest companies in the Russell 3000 Index. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

EV/EBITDA ("Enterprise Multiple") is a measure used to determine the value of a company and takes enterprise value (EV) (market capitalization plus total debt minus cash and cash equivalents) divided by earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization (EBITDA). In determining the value of a company, the ratio is used to consider the company's debt and cash levels in addition to its stock price and relates that value to the company's cash profitability. Metrics are shown as a weighted average. Estimates exclude the Financials, Real Estate, and Utilities sectors for both the Strategy and Benchmark. Internal estimates are proprietary to CRM. Broker and Index estimates are sourced from LSEG Workspace.

Net Debt/EBITDA is a measure used to determine leverage and takes total debt minus cash and equivalents divided by EBITDA. The ratio is used to show how many years it would take for a company to pay back debt if net debt and EBITDA are held constant. In circumstances where a company has more cash than debt, the ratio can be negative. Metrics are shown as a weighted average. Estimates exclude the Financials, Real Estate, and Utilities sectors for both the Strategy and Benchmark. Internal estimates are proprietary to CRM. Broker and Index estimates are sourced from LSEG Workspace.
